Determine strategy

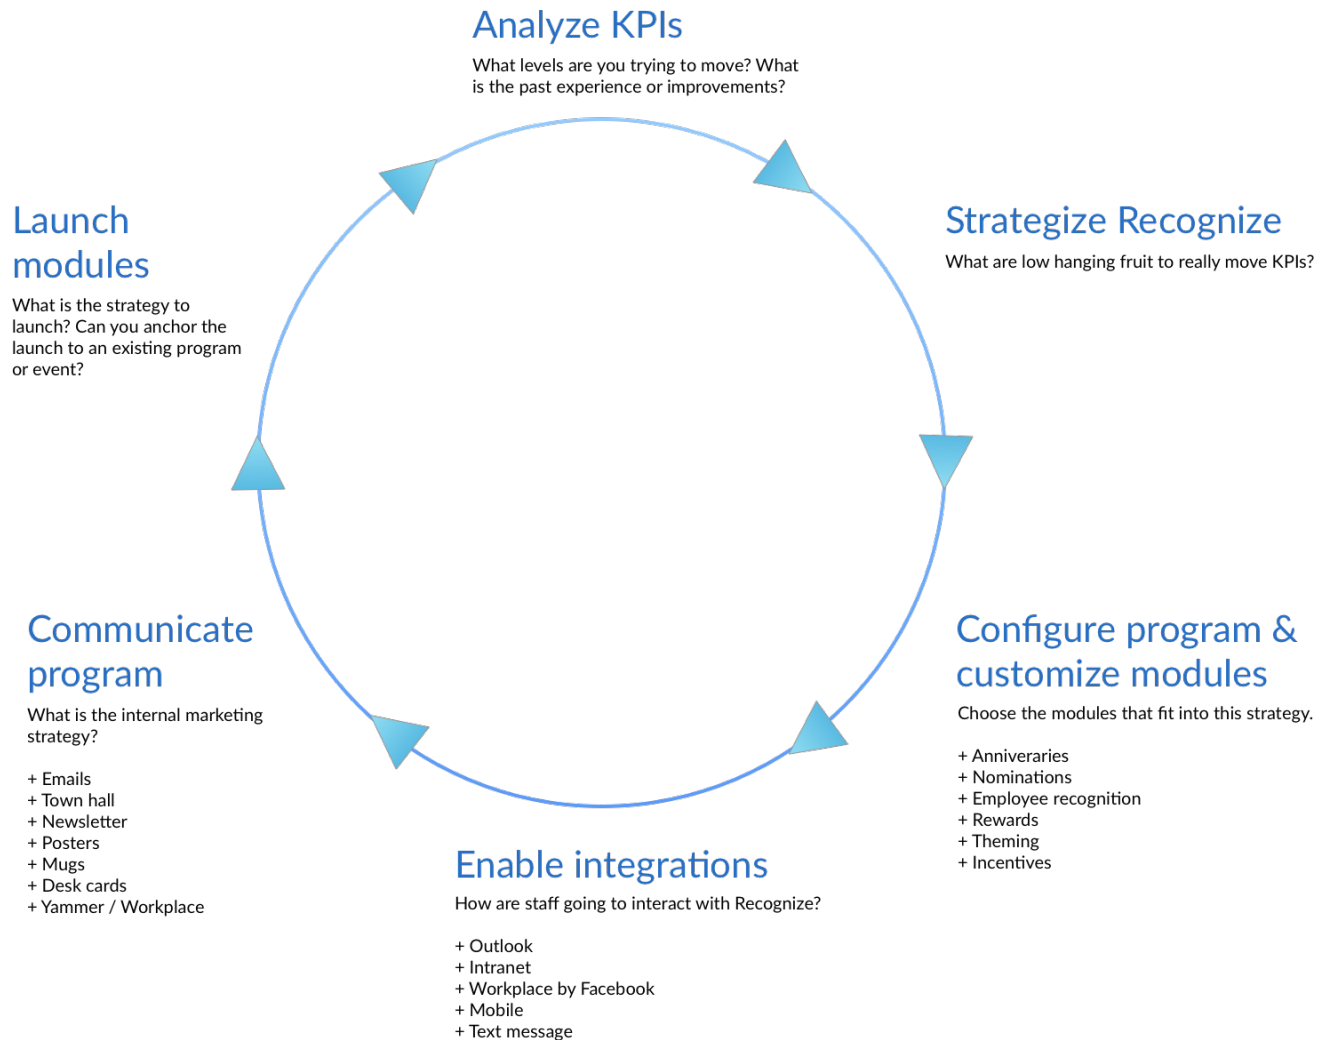

Checklist	Expectation
Decide on initial role-out strategy	What programs do you want to start with? Nominations, peer-to-peer, manager-to-peer, rewards, and anniversaries are all options.
Choose initial badges and graphics	Get at least three badges ready that represent your company values. Don't worry, badges will change over time so it doesn't have to be perfect.
Decide if points makes sense for you	A lot of companies choose to disable points in the beginning and turn them on with a rewards catalog later.
Decide on rewards if applicable	You can do company-fulfilled rewards or automatic gift cards. Staff can redeem with the points they earn from recognitions.
Incentives or nominations	Do you want to roll out incentive tasks or nomination votes now or later?
Choose to use role-based recognition	Which badges will only be sent by a manager or director? Sky is the limit!
Bulk recognition based on past behavior	Survey staff and have them fill out a spreadsheet of great moments in last year. Bulk recognize your staff to preload with past behaviors.
Anniversary recognition	We can sync your start date if you have AD Azure or have staff enter manually to recognize for anniversary and birthdays.
Ongoing strategy	Are monthly gatherings in your ability? Decide how to keep people engaged through weekly and monthly updates.
Introducing the program	You can easily email the staff when the program starts, are you going to couple it with any other kind of announcement?
